This application is a 371 of PCT/JP02/13646 (filed 12/26/02). The preliminary amendment filed 06/24/05 is entered. Claims 1-8 are currently pending.

The IDS filed 06/24/05 has been considered. An initialed copy accompanies this action.

Claim 3 is objected to because of the following informalities: applicant should amend the claim to conform to current U.S. practice --selected from the group consisting of--. Appropriate correction is required.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35

U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over JP 06-340799.

JP '799 discloses a conductive resin composition comprising polyester resin (PET, PBT) and carbon black (para 0001, 0006, examples of translation). The reference additionally teaches the claimed photosensitive drum use (para 0002), and discloses proportions within the claimed range (0008). JP '799 also teaches the addition of various other additives (stabilizer, etc) (0009). With respect to the instantly claimed "water absorption" values of claim 2, the examiner submits that the compositions disclosed in JP '799 would inherently possess such as the exemplified polyethylene terephthalate is the same as applicant's preferred material (TEIJIN PBT) (para 0015). The reference specifically or inherently meets each of the claimed limitations.

The reference is anticipatory.

In the event that any minor modifications are necessary to meet the claimed limitations, such as selection of a particular non-conductive filler such as calcium silicate, such modifications are well within the purview of the skilled artisan. In fact, cited Kyung (2003/0148200) specifically discloses the addition of such to base resin compositions (para 0033, 0050).

In view of the foregoing, the above claims have failed to patentably distinguish over the applied art.

The remaining references listed on forms 892 and 1449 have been reviewed by the examiner and are considered to be cumulative to or less material than the prior art references relied upon in the rejection above.
